New Chevron station is an asset to Highgrove community! Grand opening set for Sept. 30, 2011.

After a long delay the new Chevron gas station on the south west corner of Center St. and Iowa Ave. opened for business on Aug. 10, 2011. This location was a former gas station back in the late 50's owned by the late Bob Shearer. The property was vacant for a long time and the soil was contaminated from the leakage of the previous station. The property was ventilated for 4 1/2 years to remove the remaining traces of contamination to permit building a similar business on the same site. The elimination of the Center St. Tire Company on this same corner was also an improvement to this major intersection.

This is a great improvement to Highgrove's entrance from the nearby I-215 freeway. There are 12 gas pumps at the new Chevron station and they will be open 24 hours. The "Extra Mile" store inside has cold drinks at their Hydra Zone, Cappuccino, Van Houtte flavored coffee with "a taste of Europe in your cup" hot food and snacks. There is also an inside ATM machine for your convenience. Next door in the same building, final preparations are being made for the Subway sandwich shop that will open soon.

Ardie and I prepared a CD of 114 photographs that I have taken over the years of this corner that includes the old Center St. Tire Co., photos of the new tanks being placed into the ground and other construction photos so a slide show can be shown at the grand opening on Sept. 30, 2011.

Some of you may remember that there was another gas station on the north east corner of this same intersection where Fix It Right Auto Repair is now located. It was either a Chevron station or a Standard Oil station owned by Ed Colvin. My high school pals Ron McHenry and Pat Timmons worked at Ed Colvin's station but even though I was there a lot, I never actually worked there. Ron McHenry lived at 1260 Center St. with his mom, Dad and Terry, Ron's younger brother. But since 1967, the former residence at 1260 Center St. has been occupied by the business known as Wilson's Frame Up. Wilson's Frame Up has been located at 1260 Center St. for 44 years.

Stater Bros grand opening really a grand occasion for Grand Terrace!

Aug. 24, 2011 will be remembered as an important day in the history of Grand Terrace. There was a preliminary celebration the previous evening that was well attended but the next morning all of the parking spaces were filled and parking overflowed onto the local streets. This project created 200 construction jobs and will have created 350 jobs at build out when the adjacent shops are occupied in the Town Square Shopping Center.

The $20 million dollar investment in the new store is the most modern store of all the 167 Stater Bros. stores and includes conveniences for all of your needs including an inside the store Chase Bank, expanded produce Dept. that includes 800 items including organic produce, a full service or self service meat Dept., full service Sea Food Dept., full service bakery that caters to custom order bakery needs, a hot service Deli, party trays for carry out, and a fresh flower department.

The new building has already received a gold award from the Environmental Protection Agency for their use of 152 skylights that are connected to computers that collect sunlight during the daytime for use after the sun goes down and other environmentally friendly practices that include re-cycling and refrigeration.

According to Jack Brown, CEO of Stater Bros. the new store is twice the size of the old store and has twice the product. Many of the employees from the old store took jobs at the new store.

The Colton High School band performed at the Grand Opening ceremony and during the event, Stater Bros. presented them with a $2,500 donation. They also donated the same amount to the Sheriff's Explorer program and to the Friends of the Grand Terrace Library.

Stater Bros. is also responsible for 3 vans that transport Veterans to and from the hospital in Loma Linda.

Jack Brown, who was born on Flag Day, was recently named Native Son of the Year by the Native Sons of the Golden West but his most cherished award given to him is being a recipient of the Medal of Honor.

Stater Bros. is active in the communities they serve and their motto is: One Mission-One Team!

Jack Brown and his team members have accomplished their goal in Grand Terrace to give this community the best store in the country. Another familiar quote made during the ceremony was: A promise made-A promise kept! Congratulations to all of our Grand Terrace friends who helped make this promise possible. cont. on P. 8

Lawsuit filed against Metrolink!

On Tuesday Aug. 23, 2011 the Friends of Riverside Hills which is an organization located near UCR filed a lawsuit in the Riverside Superior Court hoping to halt the Perris Valley Line project until their environmental concerns are addressed in regards to the proposed commuter trains that are planned between Riverside, and Perris. This is the same track that runs through Highgrove where surrounding communities have wanted a station for the last 10 years.

The lawsuit claims that the Riverside County Transportation Commission (RCTC) did not fully address the environmental impact the Perris Valley Line would have through their neighborhood.

The lawsuit also challenged other data that they considered outdated or incorrect. They said the projected ridership figures were "inflated" to show more ridership on the Perris Valley Line and the bus ridership figures were "decreased" to show inaccurate figures of expected riders that would use busses.

The practice of using "inflated" and "decreased" figures by the Riverside County Transportation Commission is not new to RCTC, the agency named in the lawsuit.

Eric Haley was the Executive Director of RCTC in Jan. of 2007. I wrote an article explaining what Eric Haley did on Jan. 10, 2007 that appeared in the February 2007 issue of the Highgrove Happenings Newspaper. Here is a portion of that article:

"The RCTC staff inflated the Highgrove location costs by improperly attaching the multi-million dollar Colton flyover costs to the Highgrove site and deflated the ridership projections through inaccurate estimates. They said the Highgrove Station would cost $157 million dollars for only 117 riders per day."

We knew that these figures were wrong when they were made by Mr. Haley over 4 ½ years ago.

The deadline for the construction bids to be submitted for the Colton flyover is in just a few days on Sept. 7, 2011. This proves that the placement of a Metrolink station at Highgrove has no bearing on the Colton flyover and vice versa. And no written verification of the 107 passengers per day ridership figures from 2007 has ever been presented, except verbally by Mr. Haley.

Years ago, Mr. Haley refused to consider our suggestions to buy the 35 acres of vacant land for a Highgrove station and referred to the Highgrove purchase as "Land banking" and stated it was "too close to the County Line and residents from San Bernardino County would be using the station".

RCTC just paid $8,625,000 for the 17.22 acres on the north side of the 35 acres but they were only able to buy 17.22 acres because 2 giant warehouses have been built on the south side of the arroyo along Citrus Street. Somehow Mr. Haley's opposition to "Land banking" years ago seems to have been an unwise decision because RCTC recently had to buy ½ of this same property at over 8 ½ million dollars!

The only part of his statement that is correct is the part about "residents from San Bernardino County would be using the station".

On July 25, 2011 I submitted a 3rd letter of support to RCTC for the Highgrove station from the Mayor of Grand Terrace, Walt Stanckiewicz. The first letter from Grand Terrace supporting the Highgrove location was on December 13, 2001.

Much of the above information can be verified on our web site: www.highgrovehappenings.net by clicking on Supporting Docs, Highgrove Happenings articles from 2001 to 2009, and scrolling down to Feb. 2007 for the quotes about the inflated cost figures and deflated ridership figures; then scroll down to the Oct. 2007 issue that has additional complaints against RCTC under WHO IS RESPONSIBLE items (a) through (j).

Additional biased information from RCTC can be found on the Highgrove website by clicking on "Metrolink" then "13 Reasons" that contains RCTC's reasons why a Metrolink station can't be built at Highgrove. The list was made by STV who is the consultant hired by RCTC to come up with reasons opposing the Highgrove location. Immediately following their list, is my response that is based on information from our Civil Engineer who has over 54 years of experience and volunteered his time because he saw the discrepancies in the STV report. RCTC rejected the information we presented at a special meeting where we were outnumbered 2 to 1. RCTC had 20 members present and it was just me and my volunteer Civil Engineer against the RCTC committee.

Evidently there are additional organizations that are tired of RCTC's arrogance toward the public by ignoring the common sense requests from the people. I find it interesting that on the same day the lawsuit was filed, I was in Riverside at a meeting with SCAG, (Southern California Association of Governments) in regard to getting support for a "Regional" Metrolink station on the unused portion of the same 17.22 acres owned by RCTC.

RCTC only needs the width of a curved track to connect the Perris Valley Line track to the BNSF railroad track but the remaining portion of the 17.22 acres could be used for a parking lot for the existing Metrolink trains between San Bernardino and Riverside that would benefit the whole region and enhance SCAG's Regional Transportation Plan (RTP). After my meeting with SCAG, copies of the letters, maps and a CD were taken to RCTC where they were submitted.

HIGHGROVE HAPPENINGS

Here is a copy of the letter given to RCTC, with copies to, SANBAG, SCAG and Metrolink

Shaded area cost taxpayers $8,625,000.00 just to connect the 2 railroads!

Riverside County Transportation Commission
4080 Lemon St.
Riverside, Ca. 92502

Aug. 23, 2011

Ref.: Comments about Metrolink station location

RCTC Commissioners,

The 17.22 acres purchased at Highgrove by RCTC to connect the Perris Valley Line to the # 3 BNSF main line will enable future Metrolink trains to travel from Riverside to Highgrove and go around the new proposed curve onto the Perris Valley Line with a future Metrolink station at Marlborough Avenue. The width of the curved track will only take up a small portion of the 17.22 acres. The remaining portion of this same property could be used for a parking lot and station platform to enhance the Southern California Association of Government's Regional Transportation Plan (RTP).

The grading for RCTC's curved track and the regional parking lot/station could be done at the same time allowing one piece of property to serve two different transportation purposes. RCTC would get the connection from the BNSF railroad to the Perris Valley Line railroad via the curved track without having to stop at Highgrove, and the public, on both sides of the county line, would get a station at Highgrove that has been requested for the last 10 years using the existing trains between the two counties.

This vacant 17.22 acre property is unique because it has railroads on both sides and could be used for commuter rail service in 3 different directions- Riverside, San Bernardino and Perris.

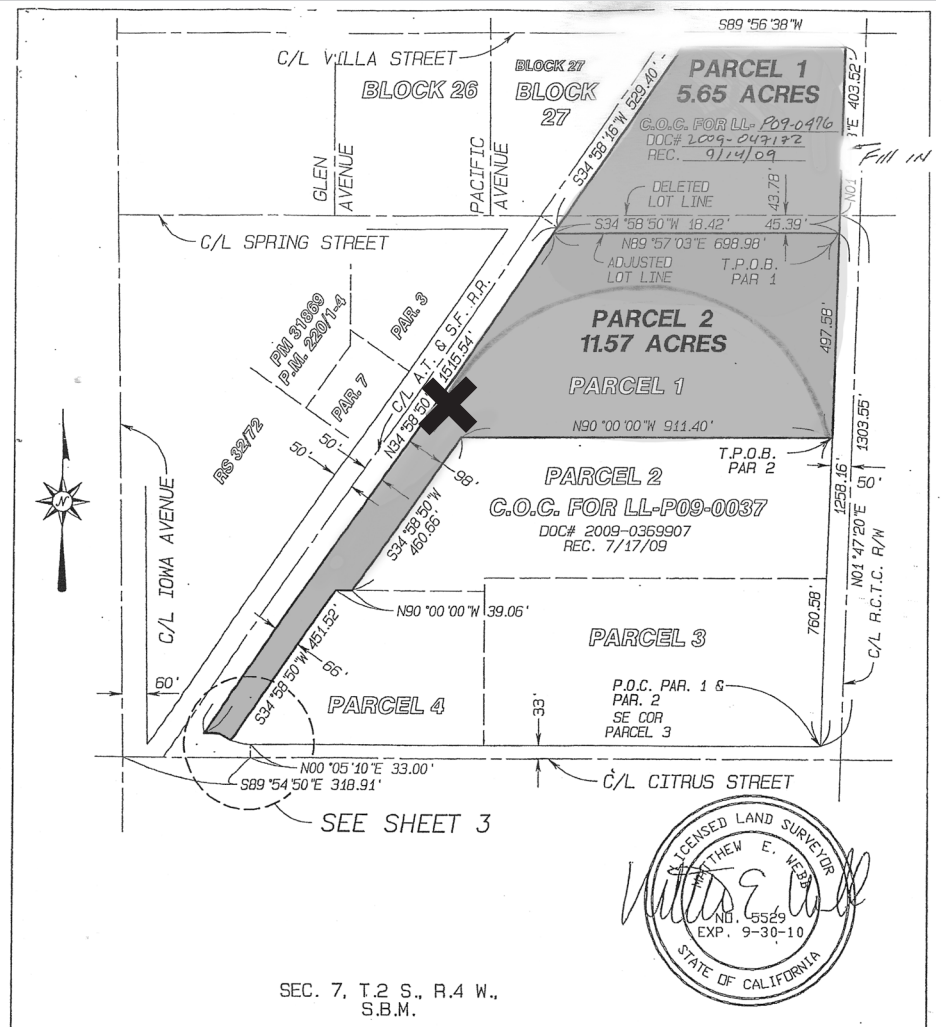

Asking SCAG and Metrolink to be involved in the planning and grading stages of this property is important because the destinations are different between the Marlborough Ave. location and the Highgrove location. The Marlborough Ave. location, or any other station that is planned along the Perris Valley Line, will not provide any commuter train service between Perris and San Bernardino. And a station at Marlborough Ave. will not stop any of the existing Metrolink commuter trains that go through Highgrove 7 days a week between San Bernardino County and Riverside County.

The Highgrove station already has existing Metrolink trains between San Bernardino and Riverside and the deadline for bids for the Colton flyover construction are due on Sept. 7, 2011 that will allow additional future commuter trains on the (I.E.O.C.) line that goes through Highgrove. But these future trains will still not be accessible because the Marlborough Ave. station is located on another railroad one mile away from the BNSF main line where there are Metrolink trains.

Cooperation is needed between RCTC, SANBAG, SCAG and Metrolink because this important project involves State, Federal, and local transportation tax dollars. This proposal will benefit both RCTC and the entire region in both counties. Please give this proposal serious consideration for the benefit of all parties.

Cc: SANBAG, SCAG, Metrolink

RCTC just spent over 8 1/2 million dollars so they can build a curved track to connect their Perris Valley Line RR track to the BNSF track at Highgrove shown in the shaded area. Since RCTC only needs the width of a track, the unused shaded area would be an ideal location for Metrolink parking that would benefit the entire region by using the existing trains between the 2 counties. RCTC has fought placing a station at the X for 10 years where there are existing Metrolink trains 7 days a week. Instead they are now in escrow to buy another 9.75 acres one mile away on the Perris Valley Line RR on the N/W corner at Marlborough Avenue. RCTC will not reveal the cost of the Marlborough property but our Federal, State, and Transportation tax dollars are also involved in this unnecessary purchase.

DEVILS DEN

by Dennis Wilds

Now if you know my stories you know they are mostly about people I have known or learned about from my folks. Some of these were good people and some not so good. But every now and then I have brushed with greatness and, hands down, I'm telling you now that Candido Rio Seco stands alone at the top of the pile when it comes down to integrity and honor. I'm going to say that Candido is the greatest little man, or any size man I have ever known and you can put that in your pipe and smoke it. To get to know Candido was a learning experience in patience, perseverance and a serious style of confident humor. He spoke Calo', something like Spanglish with ancient Spanish and Indian mixed in and he continued to expand his vocabulary every day as he worked on the train tracks as a Trajero on his way from Ciudad Juarez thru El Chuco or El Paso as he headed northwest thru Texas toward the Oklahoma panhandle. He was, in short, the original Pachuco and he had little or no intention of staying very long in Oklahoma. It was winter and he had to hole up somewhere til the spring planting season when he would follow the crops west toward California. His highway was the railway these days but for shelter and food, Candido figured he could help Brother Roy finish clearing some of the homestead for the next three or four months. By spring, the two had cleared a well drained twenty acre plot for corn and cotton but Candido took it on himself to fence off a small truck garden near the banks of Buzzard Creek where he planted a few seeds of a mysterious plant that his grandmother, an Indian Cunandera or herbalist healer, had given him. Candido convinced Roy to expand his milling business to include an ethanol still and by midsummer Roy was selling fence posts, railroad ties, milled hardwood, and small amounts of medicinal ethanol to the locals in Valiant and Idabel. By late summer Candido harvested some of his special herbs and introduced Brother Roy to the medicinal aspects of one herb in particular, the one grown from his grandmother's seeds. This could be smoked in a pipe or consumed in cornbread inducing a curious state of relaxation. Brother Roy named it "Relaxol" (patent pending) and added it to the products he marketed in town.

Relaxol, more than ethanol, created more interest in the Zundappe compound and gradually a few travelers found their way to Buzzard Creek. By summer's end Roy had a good fifteen or so converts living and working on his homestead milling lumber and working the cotton and corn. There was Baby Myrtle, Candido, Eldridge, and Timmy the sniffer in the beginning. Each new convert was issued a six foot cotton sack of their wear with neck and arm holes. On the backs of the sacks Roy marked one large "X", the purpose of which was a reminder that as a Zundapper you had a new identity and a new future. The gates to the Zundappe compound were two large timber X's planted in the red clay dirt. As a Zundapper you were encouraged to work hard and abstain from lying or untruthful practices. Roy taught that a person was only as good as his word and his work ethic. Now it sounded simple but so many of his new students were damaged goods and human flotsam and they carried their own psychological baggage with them from their old lives. Their stay in Buzzard Creek would often be mentally and physically therapeutic, allowing them to leave as healed and changed charismatics, more prepared for the world than when they arrived. That's how it worked out for Myrtle anyway.

Myrtle in the Bushes

From where Myrtle sat on her bale of hay she dispassionately watched the parade of Okies, mostly grown men and a few women, shuffle by on the other side of the rusty bars gawking and laughing and insinuating at her. The crowd of idiots amused her as much as she amused them. If only they knew what she knew, boy howdy they would be surprised. She had her secret and their one thin dime didn't come close to buying it today or tomorrow when she would have left Valiant to perform in Idabel. To them Myrtle was billed as a wild woman, a Catahoula Cajun Cutie from Bayou Larouche, Louisiana. Her boss gave her the coconut brassiere and the grass skirt but the alligator leather pumps were hers and she languidly reclined and pouted wearing the hemp colored coarse wig and red lipstick and rouge, batting her eyes at the young boys who were the most gullible. Myrtle was as mixed a metaphor as they came and she could smell the tiger odor that lingered from the last occupant of the carnival cage wagon she performed in nowadays. Yep, it had come down to working for a travelling carnival in Southeastern Oklahoma and little Richard Simonde wondered how it had all come to this. He was a he/she with no home or promise of a better life, pretending to be an aboriginal female captured down in Louisiana running with the Louisiana Leopard Dogs in Catahoula Parish.

Richard was a woman in a man's body and he was ok with that if only everyone else would just leave him alone. Small and wiry, he made a homely girl and thankfully, his beard was light enough to require little shaving. He had left home willingly headed for California to work in the movies where his Shirley Temple curly hair might get the attention of an agent. He had signed on with the travelling medicine show in Arkansas and was headed toward El Paso eventually and life was pretty easy as long as he continued to fool the Okies in front of him tonight and thankfully, the night was almost over with two lingering big Okies staring at him for about their third dime tour. Igard and Woodford Baker, brothers from over at Polecat Creek, were fascinated by Myrtle and they suspected something very different was going on with her. Emboldened by grain alcohol and with the pent up energy of hardworking, rawboned young farmers, these two man boys were in agreement that they had to know what was under that coconut brassiere that Myrtle kept adjusting over there as she lolled back and forth on those bales of hay. For her part, little Richard was getting a little nervous since the wagon didn't have a back door and these two jug heads were looking a little too menacing this evening and the flimsy wooden bars between the three of them were just for show anyway. Woodford began prying at bottom of the bars and soon had lifted them from the wooden wagon floor, allowing the smaller Igard to slip into Richards cage sideways bring him within five feet of her causing Richard to sit up straight on her bale. "Go on Igard now and git them coconuts" Woodford announced from his side of the remaining bars. Up until now no words had been exchanged by any of the three lone occupants of the tiger cage so Richard summoned her most feminine voice and warned

Igard "y'all better git on outta here rat now fore I scream". "Let's see whuts under them nuts Myrtle" said Igard as he stepped forward and reached his cotton pickin hand toward Richard. This brought Richard to her feet on top of her bale and she knew she was in trouble with Woodford squeezing sideways thru the space in the bars bringing him side to side with his little brother Igard. Now what actually happened next no one really knows exactly because all three participants gave different stories to Sherriff Irons later on. When the screaming, hair snatching, kicking and mayhem ended Igard had the coconuts and Woodford had a broken nose and Myrtle had lost her red wig and her secrets. Uncle Waldo, the sheriff declared the event a minor altercation and sent the Baker boys back toward Polecat Creek and Myrtle opted not to press the matter and left on his own in the opposite direction with all of his belongings in a floral carped bag. The next morning Myrtle happened on the Zundappe gate and was accepted unconditionally by the brothers. ## Letter to the Editor

I had a great experience with the Highgrove Paramedic Team and have to send out a big thank you for their great service. My husband and I had a dear friend visiting from New Mexico for a few days, and he had been experiencing some problems getting around since his arrival. On a Wednesday night, he was unable to navigate from our low-slung love seat to the standing position, and consequently spent the night on our living-room floor (on a mattress we had handy). I had said a prayer asking God to send a few big strong angels to help our friend get up, and we all went to sleep. The next morning, the poor old body still didn't want to cooperate, what with a disabled shoulder and a few missing toes, who could blame 'it'? Well, as the morning wore on, my slow mind finally realized we have a fully functional fire department and paramedics just a couple miles from our home, and so I called them! Within minutes, three handsome and burly men (angels) arrived at my doorstep ready to serve, and did they ever! Thank you, Highgrove Paramedics, for your gracious and timely assistance in our time of need! We will forever praise you to any who will listen! - Most sincerely, Sandy Bazo, (aka Alzen); resident of our little community

Sewer line hookups begin

The new sewer line is now in service between the new Highgrove Library on Center St. and East La Cadena Dr. at Palmyrita Avenue. The gravity flow main line starts at the library and goes down Center St. to Highgrove Place, which is just past Iowa Ave., and then turns southward and goes down East La Cadena Dr. where it connects to the City of Riverside's sewer system at Palmyrita Avenue. Several businesses are in the process of connecting to the new line. For more information please contact the Riverside County Economic Development Agency and ask for Andy Frost at (951) 955 6619.

Workers are shown connecting the RSC rental yard to the new sewer line on East La Cadena Drive.

Final preparations being made to Highgrove's first sewer line!

These workers are shown on East La Cadena Dr. at the northbound Center St. exit of the I-215 freeway. They are surrounding the man hole covers in concrete allowing for the new asphalt that will make the man hole cover the same elevation as the roadway when completed. The painting of the lines in the roadway is planned for Friday Sept. 2, 2011 or as soon as the roadway is ready. This is Highgrove's first sewer line!

Helpful hints on saving money!

- Here are some hints how to save some money during these hard economic times:
- Put small pieces of hand soap into cloth mesh instead of throwing them away when they get too small.
- Cut out coupons from newspapers.
- Eliminate credit cards. Paying interest is a waste of money if you have the cash.
- Shop locally-it saves on gasoline.
- Start out slowly when accelerating from a stop sign or traffic light.
- Be a smart buyer- having to return an item to a store is a waste of money. Don't buy something unless you intend on keeping it!
- Shop at discount stores for items where quality doesn't matter.
- Sell unused or unwanted items in a garage sale or yard sale.
- Sell unwanted jewelry or gold but expensive gold items should be appraised by a professional.
- Turn off the lights if you are not using them.
- Increase the room temperature on the thermostat of your air conditioner if you are going to be away from home for several hours (without putting any pets in jeopardy).
- Buy fluorescent light bulbs when the old ones burn out.
- Don't over water your lawn so it runs down the street. Five minutes each station, 1 hour before dusk and 1 hour after sunrise, is sufficient time and will not waste water.
- Mow your own lawn or wash your own car if you are short on cash.
- Use your bicycle or walk instead of jumping in the car to go a short distance.
- Lock your doors and windows in your house when leaving and set your alarm if you have one.
- Never leave your keys, purse or other important items in your car.
- These other suggestions may save you more than just money: it could save your life!
- Don't run red lights and don't text while driving.
- Put your cell phone where you can't reach it when you are driving.
- If you get a call, don't answer it. Pull over to a safe area and stop. Then talk on the cell phone.
- Be aware of your surroundings at all times when you are walking and talking on your cell phone.
- Pay attention when merging onto the freeway and look way before you enter the right hand lane.
- Remember, if it is powered by electricity or gasoline it costs you money to operate it!

A "LOVING" LOOK AT POLITICS

by Jerry Loving

WHY ARE WE IN DEBT?

In the past week we were once again given the annual report on how much money we owe other nations and individuals and should we raise the debt ceiling. Since we owe $15 Trillion ($15,000,000,000,000) to a bunch of nations and we have no intention of paying it back, how do we justify this decision and most importantly, is there any interest involved. I tried my best to find where there was an interest charges on this money to no avail could I find it.

I did find where other nations owe us money and lots of it. For example, China owes us over $100 Billion and Japan, United Kingdom, and Brazil owe us at least $3 Trillion each. Naturally, if they were to pay off their debt, we could pay off ours but hold your breath on this happening anytime soon.

In the past, the best way countries could lower their debt ceilings was by going to war. I won't go into detail nor do I even like this approach because there are literally thousands of young lives expended to keep from paying the debt. Even Thomas Jefferson suggested this approach to helping the colonies get out of debt and it worked. Of course you had the renegade Aaron Burr wanting a whole new nation under his name but that is another story for another day.

Also, tied to the national debt is our credit rating which is more important than the debt itself. We currently have an AA+ rating, down from AAA because of our debt fault which will end up costing us taxpayers to pay more for our personal loans and mortgages. The bottom line is that America has NO CONTROL over determining the interest rate on money we borrow because of our past performance in dealing with the debt.

In closing, our debt will continue to climb until something drastic happens. Until then, get ready to pay more for the money you need to live on.

The problem is collecting this debt! At least there should be an offset when we owe a country the same amount they owe us!

Construction begins on Iowa Ave. Overpass

Construction of the $32 Million Dollar overpass on Iowa Ave. over the BNSF railroad has started. The artist rendering below is what it will look like when it is finished. ## CHP Veteran, Acting Pass Area Commander Mike Soubirous retires

The CHP San Geronio Pass Area Acting Commander, Lt. Michael Soubirous, retired this past June, after a 29-year career with the California Highway Patrol.

Soubirous said he plans to spend his last day, Thursday, June 29, on patrol, so that he'll "go out like I started."

Soubirous graduated from the CHP Academy in 1982 and started his career in the Riverside Area office. He later transferred to the San Bernardino Area office, and after 12 years, was promoted to sergeant and assigned to the Central Los Angeles Area office. Two years later, he returned to the Riverside Area office, working there another nine years.

Soubirous was assigned to motorcycle duty as an officer and later as a sergeant for a total "riding" time of 18 years. He earned promotion to lieutenant in 2008.

As a lieutenant, Soubirous was first assigned to the South Los Angeles Area office. He transferred to the San Geronio Pass Area office in February, 2010. He assumed Acting Commander duties prior to his retirement.

"I have truly enjoyed the privilege of serving the people of the State of California and working for the CHP," Soubirous said. I thoroughly enjoyed working in Riverside County, especially while assigned to the Riverside Area and serving the many unincorporated communities there, including Highgrove." Soubirous will be replaced by CHP Capt. Gregory Peck, who assumed command of the San Geronio Pass Area office on July 1.

Peck, a Riverside resident, has served the CHP for 24 years. His tenure with the CHP includes assignments to the Indio area, CHP Academy, CHP Headquarters, South Los Angeles Area, Willows Area, and most recently, commander of the CHP's East Los Angeles Area office.

Boundary line change results in "new" Supervisor for Highgrove

Every 10 years the census is taken to see who we are and how many of us there are and other information that is used to monitor our growth on many levels. The boundaries for the jurisdiction of the 5 County Supervisors have been redrawn to equalize the amount of voters in each Supervisor's District. The 5th district Supervisor for Highgrove has been Marion Ashley who has done many wonderful things for our community but within 30 to 60 days the boundary decision will be final and Highgrove will get a "new" supervisor who has many years experience as a county supervisor. We will come under the supervision of Supervisor John Tavaglione of the 2nd district.

Supervisor John Tavaglione

On Aug. 22, 2011 I met with Supervisor Tavaglione and his staff at the County Administration Building to welcome him to the Highgrove area and to invite him to come to our Municipal Advisory Council meeting on Sept. 28, 2011. I gave him a CD that included photos of some of the old houses, the newer houses on 1/2 acre lots, plans for apartments, and additional houses in the Spring Mountain Ranch area to familiarize him and his staff with some of the aspects and challenges of our Highgrove community.

We encourage our residents to come to the MAC meeting at the new Highgrove Library at 7:00 pm on Sept. 28th and ask your neighbors and friends to also attend. Please mark your calendars for Sept. 28, 2011.

Electrical thieves strike again and again!

Many of you know that the new library in Highgrove was broken into twice when thieves took expensive electrical breakers from the library after breaking the locks off of the electrical panel and shutting off the power.

This time the new Grand Terrace High School suffered a loss estimated at between $80,000 dollars and $125,000 dollars when thieves stole similar equipment on the week-end of Aug 12, 2011 in spite of having 2 security guards on the property.

On Aug. 17, 2011 according to the Press Enterprise, 2 Jurupa Valley men were arrested for breaking into a commercial building to steal copper tubing from a refrigeration cooling room. But then again on Aug. 27th the Press-Enterprise reported that a 14 year old girl in San Jacinto fell into an opening in a sidewalk and broke her leg from a missing man hole cover. Another article on the same day was about thieves who took copper wire from an Edison sub station that resulted in a power outage for 25,000 customers in Fontana, Rialto and Lytle Creek that left them without power to run fans or air conditioners during this extremely hot weather. These are desperate times and people will do desperate things they may not normally do but it is getting ridiculous!

I would like to encourage everyone to be aware of any suspicious activity or unusual circumstances or strange cars or trucks in our neighborhood. If you see something that attracts your attention, call the Sheriff at: (951) 955 2600 or (951) 776 1099 ext. 5

Water main line replacement on Michigan Avenue

Major construction will take place when the Riverside Highland Water Co. replaces a water line from Main St. northward to Pico Street in Grand Terrace. The construction is planned to start on Sept. 12 and take about 6 to 7 weeks to complete. The 18" water line, the installation of a new traffic signal at the intersection of Main St. and Michigan Ave, plus the other construction in this general area for the new Grand Terrace High School will make this an area you may want to avoid by using Mt. Vernon Ave. instead of Michigan Avenue. Remember the north/south traffic on Mt. Vernon does not have a stop sign at Main Street. Drive Carefully!

A Donkey's Tale

One day a farmer's donkey fell down into a well. The animal cried piteously for hours as the farmer tried to figure out what to do. Finally, he decided the animal was old, and the well needed to be covered up anyway; it just wasn't worth it to retrieve the donkey.

He invited all his neighbors to come over and help him. They all grabbed a shovel and began to shovel dirt into the well. At first, the donkey realized what was happening and cried horribly. Then, to everyone's amazement he quieted down.

A few shovel loads later, the farmer finally looked down the well. He was astonished at what he saw. With each shovel of dirt that hit his back, the donkey was doing something amazing. He would shake it off and take a step up.

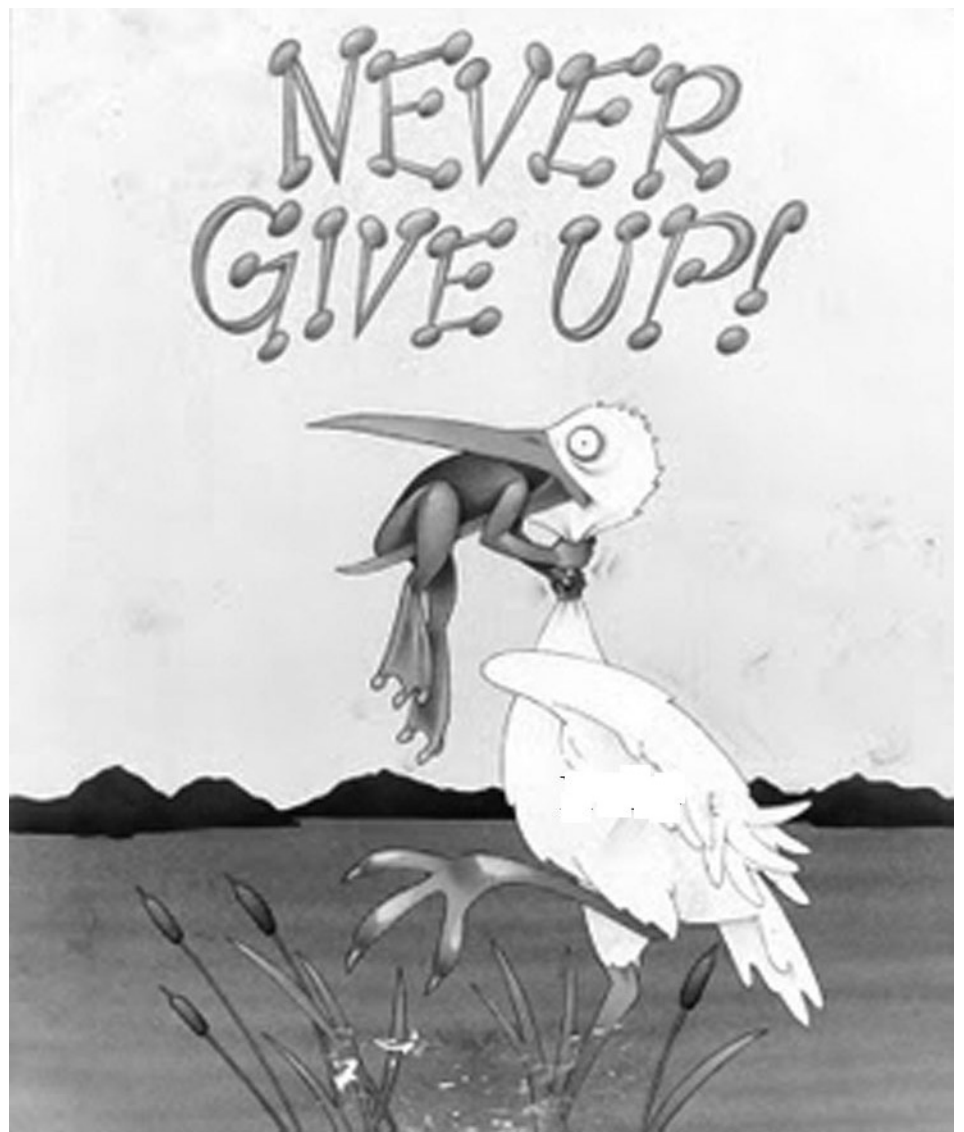

As the farmer's neighbors continued to shovel dirt on top of the animal, he would shake it off and take a step up. Pretty soon, everyone was amazed as the donkey stepped up over the edge of the well and happily trotted off!

Life is going to shovel dirt on you, all kinds of dirt. The trick to getting out of the well is to shake it off and take a step up. Each of our troubles is a stepping stone. We can get out of the deepest wells just by not stopping, never giving up! Shake it off and take a step up.

Remember the five simple rules to be happy:

1. Free your heart from hatred - Forgive.
2. Free your mind from worries - Most never happen.
3. Live simply and appreciate what you have.
4. Give more.
5. Expect less.

Do you know where this picture was taken?

You may be driving near this canal every day without realizing it. This location goes back to 1949! Cars are shown in the picture on the right.

The photo on the left was taken on Aug. 29, 2011 and is looking eastward from East La Cadena Dr. between the Eagles Aerie at 466 E. La Cadena Dr. and RSC Rental Equipment. The Eagles Aerie is known as the Riverside Eagles but it is actually in Highgrove. The city limits are in this same vicinity but the RSC rental yard is inside the city limits of Riverside. There is a new storm drain on the east side of East La Cadena Dr. that empties into this canal that runs parallel to the I-215 freeway. The concrete in the old storm drain that is shown below is dated 1949.

Colton's deceased mayor replaced by widow

Everyone was stunned when the former Mayor of Colton, David Zamora died of an apparent heart attack on July 14, 2011. Mr. Zamora was only 56 years old and the heart attack resulted in a single car accident on La Cadena Drive.

His wife, Sarah Zamora had past experience because she served on the Colton city council from 2000 to 2004. On Aug. 2, 2011 the Colton city council chose her to replace her husband as Colton's new Mayor.

Congratulations to Sarah and best wishes from the Highgrove community. We know you did not want to inherit his position under these circumstances but many people are pleased that you plan on carrying out the policies of your late husband who made a significant impression on the Colton community.

OBITUARIES

RICHARDE E. GONZALES 73, Richard lived in Grand Terrace for 38 years. He was born May 26, 1938 in San Bernardino. He entered into rest on August 5th, 2011. He died of respiratory failure and pneumonia. Richard was a retired employee at the Press Enterprise. He leaves behind his wife, Maria E. Gonzales; daughter, Laura E. Durrett; son, Philip A. Gonzales; son-in-law, Cory W. Durrett; grandchildren, Lynna A. Durrett (14) and Caeden M. Durrett, (7).

Richard and his family lived around the corner from us when we lived in Grand Terrace. We lived on Carhart Ave. and Richard lived on Pascal. It was good to see some of our friends from the old neighborhood but it never is a good feeling to meet again under these circumstances. There were a lot of people at the funeral and we did not know many of them.

VIRGINIA'S VIEWPOINT

by Virginia Harford

STATER BROS. BRAND NEW MARKET

The most spectacular news for last month (August) was the grand opening of Stater Bros. new store in Grand Terrace and was it super. Walt Stanckiewicz, our illustrious mayor said that the soiree held the night before was attended by 650 people.

The transition was a measure of how the management led by Jack Brown and carried out by many, many others came off without a hitch.

Stater Bros. Market has a lot more going for it than we realized. I went over again and took the drive along the back side on LaPaix and Stonewood because the beautiful wall is very useful in keeping noise at a minimum but the plants needed watering. What else is new at this time of the year?

One of the questions that concerns all of us: What is going to happen to the old building?

TRAGEDY STRIKES OR WAS IT DELIBERATE?

Grand Terrace High has had yet another setback: On a mid August weekend thieves broke into the new high school site and made off with breakers worth anywhere between $50,000 to $125,000 depending on what report you read. Vanir Construction Management was quoted as saying that the construction of the work could be delayed for four to six weeks. Roger Kowalski, board member wanted to know why if it took the thieves 2 hours to steal the breakers, why would it take six weeks to replace them?

When I was working at the Fontana Auto Auction just a few short years ago in 2007 and to 2008, I met a man who did security work at night to earn a little more money than he was paid at the auction and he told me that working nights had its perks-namely that you could sleep for a few hours and get away with it.

Don't you wonder why if there were two guards on duty what it the name of common sense were they doing?

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Reinvesting Dividends Can Pay Off

When you invest in stocks, you want their price to go up. But of course, you can't control the rise and fall of stock prices. However, there is a key element of investing that you can control — the number of shares you own. And in the long run, share ownership may be more important than rising stock prices in determining your long-term investment success.

Of course, you might think that the advice of "buy more shares" is easier said than done. After all, not everyone can easily find a lot of extra money to invest. But you don't need access to vast wealth to increase your share ownership — you just need to consistently reinvest your stock dividends.

Just how important are reinvested dividends to wealth accumulation, as compared to capital gains (the increase in stock prices)? Over the 135-year period from 1871 through 2003, owning stocks and reinvesting the dividends produced 97% of all stock market returns, with only 3% coming from capital gains, according to a major study done by Dr. Jeremy Siegel, one of the world's leading researchers on stock market performance. Other studies have also pointed to the importance of dividends as a component of total returns.

What are the implications of this disparity between the effectiveness of dividend reinvestment versus that of capital gains? First of all, it suggests that you may not want to spend an undue amount of time and effort in chasing after "hot" stocks, hoping for big capital gains. For one thing, by the time you buy these stocks, they may already be cooling off, but even more importantly, your focus on achieving large capital gains may not be the best use of your financial resources.

Ultimately, the power of dividend reinvestment means, not surprisingly, that you may be able to help yourself if you look for quality dividend-paying stocks — and then reinvest the dividends, month after month and year after year.

With just a little research, you can find stocks that have paid — and even increased — dividends for many years in a row. (Keep in mind, though, that not all stocks will pay dividends, and even those that do can reduce or discontinue them at any time. Dividend reinvestment does not ensure a profit or protect against loss.) So, to help boost your share ownership, consider reinvesting the dividends back into the stock, rather than taking them as cash payments. If you do choose to reinvest your dividends, though, you will need to look to other types of investments to provide you with income, assuming you need some income from your portfolio, which may become more necessary during your retirement years. Your financial advisor can help you determine the appropriate investments to help provide this income.

But in any case, if you can do without the current income provided by dividends, give careful consideration to reinvesting them. Dividend reinvestment is not a glamorous investment strategy, and it won't help you "get rich quick," but it can help you make steady progress toward your long-term financial goals — and that's a key dividend in itself.

Thank you Diego for supplying us with the words for the September puzzle. Good luck to the next winner.

Advertising rates

The "Highgrove Happenings" advertising rates are the lowest rates in town. If you have already trained your dog to bring in the paper (like the one on the right) you can be assured that he won't be lifting anything too heavy by bringing in our little newspaper. Some of the other larger newspapers are wasting just too many trees, especially in their Sunday edition. No one should ever ask their dog to lift something that heavy! Our little paper may not have much news in it, but we take pride in providing you with something free that you can put in the bottom of your birdcage! Give us a call (951) 683 4994 or check out our web site for the pricing and sizes of our ads or go to <http://www.highgrovehappenings.net> and click on the contact page.

Call us !

We have no reporters so we are asking for your help. You can be a reporter by just giving us a call or sending us an E-mail or a picture. Small town news is what we are all about and we want to encourage you to participate. We try to print positive things since there is so much bad news on TV and in other newspapers.
